Dear Mom & Ceil,

I received Ceil's letter the other day, but I still haven't gotten the one she said you were writing.

Well, we finally moved yesterday. We're still on the same island, but a short distance away from where we were. Our quarters are better here, & the food is better, too. However, we will only be here a short time, & then move up.

There isn't very much more to write from here. Everything is all right, & I hope it continues to be that way. About all we do now is fly, & then rest. However, it's enough to keep us busy.

How have you been, & everyone else at home? How are Grandma & Grandpa? Ceil writes that you are still very busy downtown. That's nothing to complain about. I wish I could have been busy with the tax rush this year. I wouldn't mind working hard in the least.
At least, I would have been home, & that means more than anything else.

Remember me to everyone at home, & let me hear from all of you.

Love
Marty
